

AI & Data Security

An Euro-American Dialogue for a new Era of Regulation

8th May 2025

Setting the background:
introduction to the digital society,
and the challenges of AI regulation

Digital technologies and surveillance:
how is AI transforming our societies?

JOIN US
IN PRESENCE

JOIN US
BY STREAMING

9th May 2025

AI in the workplace:
a cross-sector analysis

Controversial Applications of AI: consumers and data management

JOIN US
IN PRESENCE

JOIN US
BY STREAMING

READ THE FULL PROGRAM

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

U7 Building - Civitas > De Lillo Room

Via Bicocca degli Arcimboldi 8 - 20126 Milano

THURSDAY

08.05.2025

10:00 - 10:30	Introductory remarks
	Professor Gabriella Pasi, Vice-Rector for Internationalization, University of Milan-Bicocca Professor Camilla Buzzacchi, Director of DISEADE Department, University of Milan-Bicocca
10:30 - 11:30	Session 1 Setting the background: introduction to the digital society, and the challenges of AI regulation
	Chair: Monica Bonini, University of Milan-Bicocca  Introduction: Artificial Intelligence and the semantics of change Silvia Salardi, University of Milan-Bicocca  The American perspective: does regulation hamper innovation? Jordan Fischer, Drexel University  The European normative response to the data society: from the GDPR to the AI Act Carla Gulotta, University of Milan-Bicocca  AI and personal data Regulation: From Public Authority to Liability Law Erwann Picart-Cartron, IMT Atlantique, Grande École d'ingéneurs
11:30 - 12:00	Coffee break ☕
11:30 - 12:00	Debate
	Discussant: Edoardo Raffiotta, University of Milan-Bicocca
13:00 - 14:30	Lunch 🍴
14:30 - 15:30	Session 2 Digital technologies and surveillance: how is AI transforming our societies?
	Chair: Costanza Honorati, University of Milan-Bicocca  Genomics and Neurotech Robert Field, Drexel University, Philadelphia  Exempt Data Transactions Under the Guise of National Security Eamon Gallagher, Centre for Transformational Technology and the Law, Drexel University, Philadelphia  Human Dignity and the Quantified Self. The Constitutional Challenge of AI Elena di Carpegna Brivio, University of Milan-Bicocca  Artificial intelligence and media freedom in Europe: between the Charter, the ECHR, and the AI Convention Giovanni Zaccaroni, University of Milan-Bicocca
15:30 - 16:00	Coffee break ☕
16:00 - 17:00	Debate
	Discussant: Hervé Lécuyer, Paris 2 University, associate member of IODE laboratory, Rennes University

FRIDAY

09.05.2025

10:30 - 11:30	Session 3 AI in the workplace: a cross-sector analysis
	Chair: Laura Resmini, University of Milan-Bicocca  Impact of Artificial Intelligence on the labour market Claudio Soldà and Gabriele Maggioni, Adecco  Is the EU normative Framework fit to protect against the employer accessing the workers' mental states? Marta Sosa Navarro, University of Milan-Bicocca  Health data in the workplace: American perspective Robert Field, Drexel University  The EU's regulatory approach to AI in the workplace Luca Bertuzzi, Senior AI Correspondent, MLex
11:30 - 12:00	Coffee break ☕
11:30 - 12:00	Debate
	Discussant: Amedeo Santosuosso, Scuola Universitaria Superiore IUSS Pavia
13:00 - 14:30	Lunch 🍴
14:30 - 15:30	Session 4 Controversial Applications of AI: consumers and data management
	Chair: Auretta Benedetti, University of Milan-Bicocca  The state of US Privacy Law: Evolving Federal and state regulation and its interaction with AI technologies Jordan Fischer, Drexel University, Philadelphia  The pitfall of consent. A psychological perspective on data processing authorization Nadia Olivero, University of Milan-Bicocca  The CJEU Schufa decision and its consequences for European digital society Francesca Mattassoglio, University of Milan-Bicocca  AI and the legal profession: remarks on the liability of lawyers Philippe Pierre, Rennes University
15:30 - 16:00	Coffee break ☕
16:00 - 17:00	Debate
	Discussant: Eamon Gallagher, Centre for Transformational Technology and the Law, Drexel University, Philadelphia
17:00	Concluding remarks